From the desk of Trent Schiek Clubhouse Manager

Comanche Trace Members,

Well we are through the first month of 2019. I want to thank all the Members who participated in our events, new and old in January. Pasta and Birthday nights were well attended, and we received great feedback from our Membership. February looks to be another great month at Comanche Trace. We have a great menu planned for Valentines Day, and Trivia Night returns towards the end of the month.

Our new Lunch and Dinner Menu is out for the Pinnacle Grill!! If you haven't been up to eat yet, make sure you set aside time to have a meal in the grill and try one of our new items. The new wine list also was introduced last month with great selections by the glass or bottle. Save the date for next month on March 27th for Karaoke!!

Look forward to seeing you at the Club.

Tee Alignment Project

As many may have noticed there are orange paint dots turning up on the corners of our tee boxes. These dots indicate the original corners of our tee boxes. When the tee boxes were converted from rounds to square during the construction of the Creeks course, the determined corners were all marked with metal stakes. This practice allows us to periodically re-locate the markers using a metal detector and re-align the tees to their original shape. The orange dots marking the corners will eventually be connected with dashed paint lines using a string. After all the tees are marked, we will begin the process of mowing them using these lines as the Bermuda grass breaks its winter dormancy. This reclamation project will provide better alignment for golfers and provide a shape that is symmetrical and aesthetically improved.

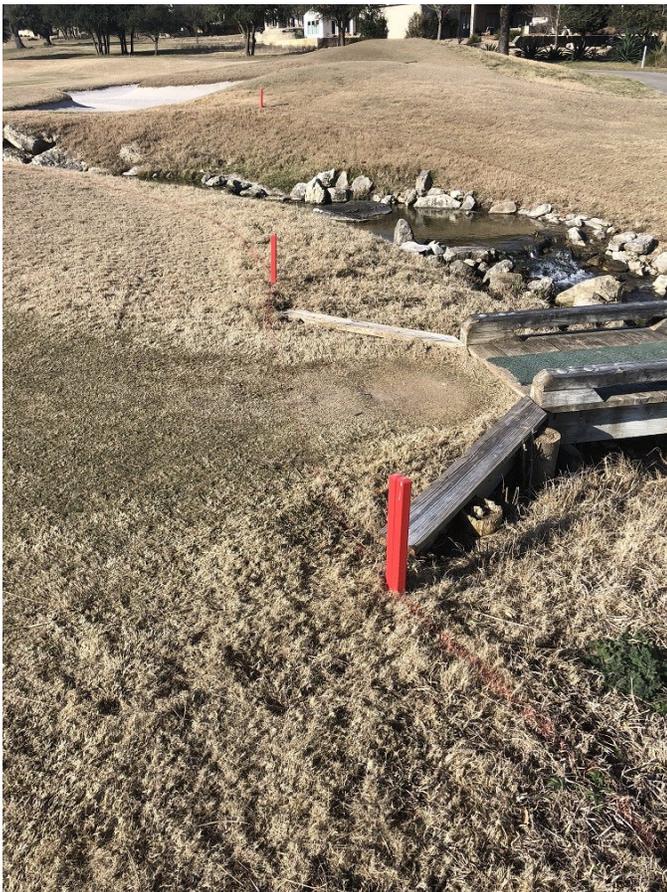

Golf's New Rules

2019 has brought new rules to the game of golf and will change the way that play at Comanche Trace is governed. Out with 'hazards' and in with 'penalty areas'. After thorough examination with our golf professionals and other key staff members the decision was made to now govern all native areas as penalty areas. This change will affect how the course is marked going forward.

The first change will be penalty areas that were marked with two margins and having one of the margins in the native penalty areas will now only be marked on the margin most immediate to play. An example of this would be the left side of our #2 on the Creeks course. Stakes and lines to the left of the water feature (shown in the picture here) will be removed, leaving only the lines and stakes on the right margin of the hazard. Under the new rules any ball that is deemed to cross the remaining red marking will be governed under the penalty areas ruling in the new rules of golf.

Another important change will be determining the margin of the penalty area. We will not be staking and marking the entire margin of the penalty areas with red stakes and paint. Areas that are currently staked and painted will remain marked as such. The additional penalty area margins will be determined using 'physical features', which in our case is the difference in mowing height. In areas where paint and stakes are used, we will signify the transition of where paint and stakes define the margin to the 'physical feature' definition of the margin using a double red stake as is pictured here.

We hope this helps provide some clarification of how you will see your course marked going forward. If you have additional questions regarding this topic, please feel free to reach out to one of your golf professionals for further explanation.

February Golf Tip

Steps to a good warm-up routine before going out to play

Proper conditioning before teeing off will lead to a better game and better scores

Get to the course early

It is important that you do not feel rushed, so allow time to complete this entire warmup period at a leisurely pace. Remember, your warmup routine sets the tempo for the day, so move slowly and relax. We recommend that you arrive at the course a minimum of one hour before your tee time.

Begin Warming Up on the Putting Green

Putting is 43-percent of golf and the putting stroke is the slowest and smoothest of all strokes in golf. By spending time warming up on the green first, you will not only be prepared for the speed of the greens but you will also be starting the day with smooth, deliberate tempo.

Spend 10 Minutes Chipping Around the Green to a target

To determine how much the ball will roll you must test the firmness of the greens. On hard greens the ball tends to roll more than on soft greens. Also, different types of rough make the ball react differently when the ball hits the green. Spending time around the green will give you some ideas that will help you choose the best greenside shots during the round, and where to land the ball on the putting surface.

Begin Your Full Swing Warmup with Stretching

Stretching can improve your range of motion by up to 17-percent. It also helps you avoid injury and it helps relieve chronic joint pain. This portion of your warmup should take approximately 15 minutes.

Begin Your Full Swing Warmup with Short Wedge Shots

You should use a short tee for all your shots on the range. This will help you contact the ball crisply, which will breed confidence. Beginning with wedge shots also helps you start your routine with smooth tempo and rhythm. After hitting 10 wedges or so, begin working from your short irons up to the long irons and woods. Make each swing rhythmic and swing with complete balance control. Your last few full swings should be with the club you intend to use on the first tee. Save the last five balls for some smooth, short wedge shots

Time to go play

You never want to stand around for more than a few minutes after warmup. If there is a delay, stand to the side of the tee and make slow swings and stretch to stay loose.

Remember: If you fail to warm up properly you are setting yourself up to fail when you play. Use the mentality of a professional: make and take the time to warm up for peak performance and better scores.

2019 LOCAL GOLF RULE'S SHEET

- 1) Please refer to the Rules of Golf book effective January 2019 concerning any rules questions. These Local Rules supersede Local Rules on the scorecard.
- 2) Penalty Areas will be defined by yellow or red stakes, lines or physical features (See #3 of Local Rules). Where marked, lines will define the penalty area and stakes identify the penalty area. In the absence of lines, stakes define the area. As an additional option for a red penalty area, where possible, a player may have the additional option of using the opposite margin equidistant to the point the ball entered the penalty area as the reference point.
- 3) NATIVE AREAS: All native areas throughout the course are considered "Red Penalty Areas" and the edge of the penalty area is where the grass and native area meet. Where a cart path is adjacent to a native area, the edge of the path on the native area side will act as the edge of the penalty area. NOTE: Mowed areas to the side of paths which lead to a native area ARE NOT part of the native area. Where native areas border both sides of a cart path, the path lies in the penalty area and the edge of the penalty area goes across the path at the point where grass would meet the native area if the path was not present. NOTE: If a ball crosses over a penalty area and comes to rest out of bounds, that rule applies (Rule 18.2) and penalty area relief is not available.
- 4) Ground under repair will include:
 - a) Areas on the course marked with white lines
 - b) Newly planted sod not marked as ground under repair should be played as it lies, although, if your ball lies in a SOD SEAM, relief will be granted if the sod seam interferes with the lie of the ball or your area of intended swing
 - c) French Drains (stone filled drainage ditches)
 - d) Staked trees...Any young tree on the course designated by ropes and stakes is considered a no play zone in which mandatory relief required for lie of ball, stance and area of intended swing...the tree itself along with the ropes and stakes are considered as one.
- 5) Out of bounds will be defined by white stakes, property fences, inside edges of any city road and where applicable, white dots adjacent to the city road. A ball which comes to rest on or over a city road is considered out of bounds. OB is determined by the nearest inside points of the fence, stake or road at ground level.
- 6) Fire ants and their mounds are considered a dangerous situation and relief is granted under Rule 16.2a & 16.2b.
- 7) Animal hoof damage: In the general area or in a bunker, damage that is clearly identifiable as having been caused by animal hoofs is ground under repair and Rule 16.1 applies (Abnormal Course Conditions). Such damage on the putting green may be repaired and Rule 13.1c (2) applies.
- 8) Deer or antelope dung in any area except a penalty area is considered as either loose impediments or as ground under repair at the option of the player. An accumulation of dung will be considered as one area of ground under repair.
- 9) Damage by animals: Damage in the "general area" caused by animals such as armadillos or skunks will be considered ground under repair. Interference does not exist if the damage only interferes with the player's stance.
- 10) Integral parts of the course:
 - 1) Wires, cables or electric boxes closely attached to trees or other permanent objects
 - 2) Retaining artificial walls when located within penalty area.
- 11) Obstructions close to putting green...If a ball lies in the general area and an immovable obstruction within 2 club lengths of the putting green and within 2 club lengths of the ball intervenes on the line of play between the ball and the hole, the player may take relief as follows.... the ball may be lifted and dropped within the relief area using Rule 16.1b.
- 12) Drop Zones: As an additional option for a ball in a penalty area, drop zones may be provided as part of an individual rules sheet for an event.
- 13) Rules Committee: Mark Cote, PGA
